

I am outraged by the actions of Sinclair Broadcasting Company to force their affiliates to air the upcoming "documentary" program "Stolen Honor."

Sinclair does not own the airways. We, the people of the United States, do. This illegal abuse of their access needs to be stopped, and it is the responsibility of the FCC, as the people's agency, to prevent this improper action.

This is yet another example of the corruption that results from unfettered media consolidation, without the oversight of the FCC. It is time to do something about it. Now.

Thank you for taking my comment.
